SECURITY

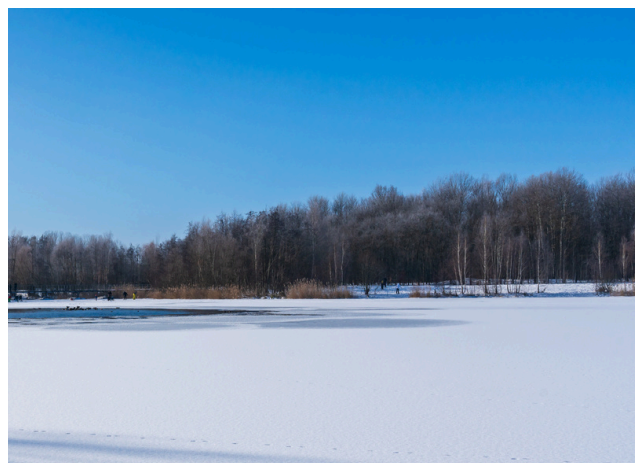

What to do with hot ashes?

Improper storage of hot ashes can cause fires and carbon monoxide poisoning. To dispose of your ashes safely, you must :

- regularly empty the ashes from the fireplace, never with a vacuum cleaner, but with a metal shovel;
- place hot ashes in a metal container with a raised bottom and metal lid;
- take the metal container outdoors, as hot ashes give off carbon monoxide;
- place it on a non-combustible surface, at least 1 m away from any object;
- wait at least 7 days before transferring the ashes from the metal container to another container (garbage can, organic matter bin), and stir the ashes to ensure they have cooled completely. If you can, keep the ashes outside all winter, and dispose of them only in spring.

Ice can play tricks on you!

With over 40 lakes, the Township of Wentworth urges residents to stay informed before stepping onto frozen surfaces. Ice color can be a crucial indicator of its thickness and safety:

- Clear, transparent ice: safe when at least 4 inches thick (see the ice thickness chart).
- White or opaque ice: weaker due to air bubbles.
- Grey or dark ice: dangerous, indicating water presence.

CARNIVAL PHOTOS

The Carnival held on January 31, organized by the WRC, was a wonderful success!

The event brought together many participants and was filled with fun and good spirits. The lumberjack competitions, axe throwing, the water-boiling challenge, as well as the beautiful day itself, were a great success with both young and old alike.

A huge thank-you to the WRC and to all the volunteers for this wonderful event that brought together and entertained the community of the Township of Wentworth.
